J. V. THOMPSON WILL PASS ON THE COKE MERGER PLAN.

At the Request of a Large Number of Operators He Will Examine Data and Report on Deal.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. M'KNIGHT

He Says He Is Satisfied, and That He Thinks Mr. Thompson's Report Will Remove All Further Obstacles to Consummation of Merger.

The Connellville coke merger, which stumbled over the modified terms, seems to be in a fair way to recover its footing and its gait. J. V. Thompson has consented, not exactly to arbitrate the matter, but to examine the papers and say whether the proposition has been fairly and equitably put.

Charles McKnight, the underwriters' representative, arrived in Uniontown last evening and remained until this morning, when he left for home. He was seen at the Connellville station by a representative of The Courier, and in response to inquiries said:

"At the request of a number of the larger operators, and with our hearty approval, J. V. Thompson has consented to examine the papers and pass upon the equity of the appraisements and the general fairness of the plan of merger.

"I am confident that his report will be favorable. We have striven earnestly to be just and fair all around, and I am sure the data will bear us out. I believe that the merger will go forward rapidly to conclusion after Mr. Thompson's report.

"When will the report be made?" "Well, you know Mr. Thompson. When he undertakes a thing, he does not go to sleep on it; on the other hand, he often sits up late at night with it. I imagine you will hear from him within a very short time, perhaps before the week is ended."

WAYNESBURG BANK TO PAY DIVIDEND

Receiver Strawn of Defunct Farmers and Drivers Institution Expects Distribution.

WAYNESBURG, July 23.—Receiver John H. Strawn, of the defunct Farmers & Drivers National Bank, went to Pittsburgh yesterday on business relating to that institution. He remarked that he is arranging for a tardy distribution of funds among the depositors and claimants. He holds some securities which he wants to convert into cash to be added to the fund to be distributed, and as soon as this is done, the duty of payment will be announced.

The receiver said he was figuring on a ten per cent dividend or payment, and when made this will make 50 per cent paid depositors and claimants. Then will follow other payments, possibly as much of the assigned real estate and coal properties remain to be converted into cash for distribution. When the bank failed it was stated that it would almost pay the depositors in full, but as the slow months have dragged themselves along it now looks as though the funds would fall considerably short of the "full" payment prediction. It is to be hoped that conditions will arise as to bring about a good result which would be very acceptable to claimants. It was learned in a conversation with the receiver some time ago that after one more dividend was paid that the only assets of the bank then remaining would be the Rinehart property, and what is realized from it would be the last dividend paid the depositors.

Fuel-Saving Device.
Isaac C. Dakin, a practical miner, of West Newton, has invented a device which he designates an automatic bridge wail, for the more economical use of fuel in furnaces. Mr. Dakin's method is in use in the furnaces of the Eureka brewery at Smithton, where it is considered of great value. A patent has been applied for.

Bull Durham, the classy outsider turned over to Wheeling by Fairmont, has been sold to McKeesport and played his first game with the Tubers yesterday.

CAMPERS ARE BACK.

Y. M. C. A. Boys Returned Last Night After Fine Trip.

The Y. M. C. A. boys who were camping a couple of weeks ago returned from Roger's Mills last night after the most pleasant outing they ever had. The lads had a fine time and there wasn't a single case of sickness or an accident to mar their pleasure. The splendid record for health and absence from injury, as well as the general good time, was greatly due to the supervision of Secretary Frank L. Chase and Physical Director Fred Prosch. Both of these men proved ideal companions; kept the boys out of mischief and arranged a schedule each day which embodied the maximum of fun and minimum of discomfort. The boys say they will have even a larger crowd next year.

YOUNGSTOWN COMPANY BUYS COKING COAL

Fifteen Hundred Acres in Dunkard Creek, Greene County Field, Brings $550 Per Acre.

The Youngstown Steel Company of Youngstown, Ohio, has bought from J. V. Thompson, of Uniontown, a tract of 1,500 acres of coal land located in the Dunkard creek section of Greene county, the price being $550 per acre, including the surface, the deal amounting to $825,000. The Youngstown concern is closely affiliated with the Brier Hill Coal & Coke Company, which has 470 acres at Brier Hill.

The coal has been tested for coking and proves good, but as there is no railroad, the development will be deferred sometime. Mr. Thompson has owned the coal for sometime, and made a handsome profit on its sale.

It is said that Mr. Thompson has purchased the coal of the Stokes Blackledge firm, near Rice's Landing, from the Monongahela Coal & Coke Company at $500 per acre. Options have been taken on coal near Jefferson for $500 per acre. The approaching coke merger has caused an increased activity in Greene county coal and all that is needed for a boom is the presence of a railroad.

STERLING CANDIDATE FOR AUDITOR GENERAL

Pittsburg Paper Says That He Will Be a Candidate on the Democratic Ticket.

According to a Pittsburg paper today, Bruce F. Sterling of Fayette county is slated as candidate for Auditor General on the Democratic State ticket. The convention will meet in Harrisburg on August 4. According to Pittsburg reports, the slate is to be C. La Rue Munson of Lycoming, for Justice of the Supreme Court; George W. Kipp of Bradford for State Treasurer and Bruce F. Sterling of Fayette for Auditor-General. Judge George B. Staples is also talked of for the Supreme Court nomination. Mr. Sterling served one term in the State Legislature and is regarded by the Democrats as a strong man in this section. The ticket is well balanced, geographically, and those advocating its nomination say it would be in a position to make a good fight this year.

Big Week at Olympia.
This is a big week at Olympia Park. Yesterday the Connellville outing was a banner affair while tomorrow the employees of the Westinghouse Air Brake Company will celebrate.

Three Carloads of Bedding are also expected to arrive today. At the McKees Rocks entrance to the plant this morning 63 workmen entered.

It is feared that trouble will follow the arrival of the men.

THOMPSON PAYS $100,000.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., July 23.—That he pays $100,000 in taxes on coal properties in four counties—Monongalia, Greene, Marion and Wetzell—every year, was the statement made by J. V. Thompson of Uniontown, before the Board of Review and Equalization at the hearing accorded coal land owners by the Board yesterday.

RAIN CAME AT PICNIC'S CLOSE.

Splendid Day at Olympia Up Until Time to Embark for Home.

FULLY 3,200 PEOPLE PRESENT

Day's Program Carried Out in Good Style and a Most Enjoyable Time Had By The Big Crowd—Prize Winners in the Races.

It was a tired but jolly crowd that returned home last evening from the sixth annual outing of the Merchants' Association held yesterday at Olympia park. The day was an ideal one up until shortly after 6 o'clock when the outing was brought to an abrupt close by a heavy rain. Hundreds of picnickers were caught in the storm and as the result many picnic bonnets were ruined and made shapeless and dresses are now ready for the laundry. All the return trains arrived on excellent time, the first leaving Versailles at 7 o'clock and the last leaving Connellville in the morning made the trip to Versailles in an hour.

The crowd exceeded expectations. Owing to the Fourth of July celebration here it was not expected that the crowd would be as great as in former years. This proved wrong, however, for by the count of the turnstiles it was shown that more than 3,200 people looked into the park. Over 2,500 people came from Connellville and nearby points, while the McKeesport folks turned out in large numbers to help Connellville make a big day of it. Financially the Merchants' Association did remarkably well, the dancing pavilion proving the stellar attraction from a financial standpoint. The dance hall was thronged with people from morning until night.

The outing was pronounced as one of the best and most enjoyable ones ever held by the Association. There was not an accident to mar the pleasure of the day and everybody had a good time. There were all kinds of amusements and not a dull moment during the day. Following the drawing of the piano in the morning there was a baseball game between the All-Stars of Uniontown and a picked team from Connellville. A large crowd witnessed the game. The score was 9 to 1 in favor of Connellville. Sharps pitched for Uniontown, and Shoetz and Jones worked for the local team.

At noon the picnickers selected pretty spots in the park and at once commenced to prepare dinners from well filled baskets. In the afternoon there were amusements enough to take up the time. The merry-go-round, the ferris wheel and the large swings were worked over time, while a large crowd was entertained with a good matinee at the park theatre. The dancing pavilion was crowded both morning and afternoon. Despite the fact that ladies were charged for dancing the crowd was a record breaker. Music was furnished by Kierle's orchestra. The ice cream cone man did a bumper business as did the cracker-jack and zigzag man.

The ball game in the afternoon between the McKeesport and Steubenville team drew a large crowd. The game was an interesting one, Humphries, a former Charleroi pitcher, pitched for the McKeesport team. The score was 4 to 1 in favor of Steubenville. At 4 o'clock the remainder of the races were pulled off in front of the band stand. A large number of people from McKeesport assembled at the park in the afternoon to see their Connellville friends and there were many happy meetings between friends who had not gathered together since the last year's outing of the merchants.

Many new amusements have been installed at the park since last year and a more ideal place could not have been selected by the merchants.

Supper was eaten at 5 o'clock by many of the picnickers who were through outing and had their baskets put away when the storm came up. Too much credit cannot be given to the merchants for the big success of the outing. To manage and arrange for a large outing such as the one held yesterday requires much time and (Continued on Second Page.)

Highest Figure on West Virginia Coal Lying Along the River.

REGARDS COUNTY AS WHOLE

Action Will Probably be Opposed by Coal Land Owners, Who are Expected to Take Matter Up With State Tax Commissioner.

MORGANTOWN, July 23.—While the members of the board of review have made no statements regarding the assessment of coal land in Monongalia county, it is reported that the valuation of Assessor Griffith and his assistants will not be changed materially, although in many cases the dividing lines be changed.

Pennsylvanians are said to own the greater part of the undeveloped Pittsburg coal seams in West Virginia, and the ownership is largely in Uniontown and Connellville. The indications are that the board taking up the Pittsburg coal on the west side will start in with a valuation of $200 an acre along the river, gradually decreasing towards the western end of the county, where the lowest valuations are $75, according to the figures submitted by Assessor Griffith. It is possible that some of the tracks in the extreme western end of the county and in the more accessible portions may be put under this figure, although the indications are now that the property will be graded from $200 down to $75, with a small decrease every mile from the river to the western end of Battelle.

This will not meet with the approval of the coal land owners on the whole, and the chances are that the State Tax Commissioner, T. C. Townsend, will be called upon to intercede. Those who have kept posted regarding the assessments are of opinion that the commissioner will be inclined to give his full support to the assessor and the reviewing board, although a compromise may be made in the form of a slight cut on all of the coal land.

The members of the board are still going busy in going over the assessor's books for the west side, making a general comparison of the valuations. Except for the coal land assessments, there will not be many applications for reductions to come up before the board for action. So far no individual cases have been heard, the members of the board devoting all of their time to a general survey of the county as a whole.

COUNTY OFFICERS GOT BOX WITH MONEY IN IT

But Owner, D. M. Beeghly, Came Along Before They Had It Very Long.

UNIONTOWN, July 23.—While County Commissioner John S. Langley and former County Commissioner A. J. Stentz were driving along a Wharton township road near Gibson Glade yesterday they stumbled over a box which was in the road, right side up. Investigation disclosed copies of daily papers, half a dozen crates of berries, a pair of gold rimmed spectacles, half a pint of "licker" and a money bag containing $95 in bills.

There was no means of identifying the property so the officers took it in their buggy. They had driven about three miles when they saw D. M. Beeghly, a prominent huckster of that region, walking slowly towards them, looking carefully on both sides of the road for his missing crate.

Beeghly was greatly relieved when he learned the men had the box. He thanked them in an enthusiastic manner after finding the contents safe.

COOL AS A CUCUMBER.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., July 23.—"Is that all? Why, I read that in the papers nearly a month ago," coolly remarked Reeco Racco in July, when Sheriff Waddington read the death warrant to him setting his execution for September 23. Racco will be hanged for killing State Deputy Game Warden Sees Hook.

TROOPERS OFF FOR SOMERSET.

Six Trains Went Through Connellville This Morning for Camp.

LOCAL SOLDIERS GET AWAY

Tenth Regiment Band, Company D and Hospital Corps Left About 11:30 on Special Train With Uniontown and Greensburg Companies.

Today is go-away day for the National Guardsmen who are going into camp at Somerset. Connellville proved to be a center of operations as practically all of the Second Brigade companies went through town this morning. There were six sections to No. 6, all of them being troop trains. The depot was flooded with people on hand to give the Guardsmen the glad hand and see them safely started on their journey. Among the spectators on the platform were veterans of the Spanish-American war, who greeted any comrade of the Cuban or Philippine campaigns they might happen to see. Captain H. A. Crow, who led Company D of the Fighting Tenth in the Philippines, A. J. Buttermore, S. S. Clark and others were on hand. It revived old memories for them.

There was a great cheer when the Eighteenth Regiment of Pittsburgh came in. This is now led by Col. A. J. Logan, a member of the State Army Board and well known in Connellville. Col. Logan, Major L. P. McCormick, ranking surgeon of the Tenth Regiment, Captain Crow and others held a jolly reunion while the engine took water and the cars were replenished with ice and water. Company D was the first of the local organizations on the field. The company assembled at the Army and marched to the depot with six full fours. The Tenth Regiment band followed a short time later, playing martial strains of music. The members of the hospital corps drifted down with little regard to order.

Company I of Greensburg boarded the train at Broad Ford instead of coming to Connellville. Col. Richard Coalter, Jr., and the regimental officers came here in preference to waiting at Broad Ford for their train. They arranged the details for loading the equipment and troopers on board. It was half past eleven before the Connellville detachment got away. Company C of Uniontown boarded the same train here that took the Connellville and Greensburg troops to Somerset.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad will run special excursions on Sunday and Tuesday. There is nothing in particular doing around the camp on Sunday, but Tuesday Governor Edwin S. Stuart and his staff will be there for the annual inspection.

For visitors, however, Friday of next week will be the best day, although no excursion will be run at that time. General Willis J. Hulings, commanding the Second Brigade, declares this will not be the usual hot and dried encampment. On Friday there will be a sham battle, one detachment attacking Somerset and the other defending it. The officers will show off their good qualities in company with regular army officers. The inspectors this year are picked men, graduates of the service school at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

CRISMAN-FOX.

Daughter of Dr. Crisman Marries Westmoreland Man.

At the Fort Pitt Hotel, Pittsburg, last evening at 8 o'clock took place the marriage of Miss Nellie Crisman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George D. Crisman, formerly of Beaver, to Fox David Tarr of Greensburg. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father, Dr. Crisman, and was witnessed only by members of the immediate families of the young couple.

Miss Crisman is an Allegheny College girl and for two years has been instructor in English and German in Beaver College, where her father has been president. Rev. Crisman formerly preached at West Newton and Scottsdale. Mr. Tarr is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Tarr, of Tarr Station. Mr. and Mrs. Tarr left last night for a trip East and will be at home after October 1 in East Otterman street, Greensburg.

CANNED GOODS FOUND PURE.

But Inspectors Find Baking Powder and Pickles Containing Alum.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 23.—Of 500 samples of foods collected by Special Agents N. L. Benzhoff of Altoona, and Daniel Saylor of Pottsville, for Food Commissioner Foust nearly all those of canned goods were found to be pure and unadulterated within the meaning of the act, according to a statement of Mr. Foust issued here. The samples were all collected in Western and Central Pennsylvania. The preliminary reports show that many samples of baking powder and pickles contain alum, which is a violation of the pure food act, and prosecutions will follow as soon as full reports are in the hands of the Commissioner.

SUTTON TESTIMONY IS ALL IN A TANGLE NOW

Sergeant DeHart Was Star Witness in Court Today, Badly Muddled.

United Press Telegram.

ANNAPOLIS, July 23.—Tangle seems to succeed tangle in the testimony regarding the death of Lieut. James Sutton, who was mysteriously shot on the Marine Barracks grounds here on the night of October 12, 1907. Among the peculiar points of the versions of the death of Lieutenant Sutton told by witnesses, none is being more closely probed than the story of Sergeant DeHart, who received one of Sutton's revolvers from the hands of some one present just after Sutton was shot, and who threw it away.

Surgeon Pickrell was recalled to the stand before the cross examination of Sergeant DeHart was resumed this morning. The surgeon declared he had not noticed that Sutton had a paralytic nose, and said he noticed no distortion that would have been noticeable had Sutton had such a nose. Sergeant DeHart, who remembered little or nothing of how he came into possession of the pistol, became entangled by still more lapses of memory today. "I can't tell" or "I don't remember" were the answers to a dozen or more questions concerning particulars of his conversation with Sutton before the fight when DeHart says he advised Sutton to put away the two revolvers and fight with his fists.

NO FREE HIDES IN THE TARIFF MEASURE

Western Senator Tips Off Newspaper Men That There is Nothing Doing.

United Press Telegram.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—"Don't make any bets or promises you will not slave, or have your hair cut until hides go on the free list, because I don't want you to look like Rip Van Winkle."

This is the advice given today by a prominent Senator to his newspaper friends, and who voiced the feeling of confidence which exists among the Western Republican Senators on the whole question of raw materials. They are perfectly willing to make concessions in rates, but stand pat against the proposition to remove all duties from hides, coal, iron ore and lumber.

NOTHING TO DO.

Cow and a Drunk Are the Only Features in Police Court.

Burgess J. L. Evans had nothing to do in police court this morning. Only two arrests were made yesterday, both on the West Side. One drunk left a forfeit while a cow, taken in by the officers, remains in Grinn's livery stable awaiting the owner's call.

On the East Side everything was orderly and no trouble of any kind occurred during the day or night.

Showers and Cooler.
Showers this afternoon and tonight; cooler Saturday; fair and moderate temperature is the noon weather forecast.

Refuse to Allow Strike Breakers To Parade From One Mill to Other.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., July 23.—(Special.)—The State mounted police, Troop D, in command of Captain Pitcher, is making an excellent impression on the tin plate strikers.

STATE OFFICIALS ARE HERE

Have Been Making An Exhaustive Examination of the Water Sheds and Are Not Satisfied With Conditions They Found.

The outbreak of an average of more than one case of typhoid fever each day for the last 14 days in Scottdale has caused the State Department of Health to institute a rigid investigation into the sources of water supply, and several inspectors have been in this region during the week. Their verdict on the matter takes a scope of territory from Indian Creek to Pittsburg, as liable to be affected by conditions, which they discovered on the Indian Creek water shed, which fits the immense reservoirs of the Mountain Water Supply Company at Indian Creek. The investigation of the water shed of the Citizens Water Company, which supplies Scottsdale, directly from the Greenlick water shed above Scottsdale, did not reveal such bad conditions, but still ones that cause the Department of Health officials to issue a vigorous warning to the consumers of water, against its use without boiling, and the dangerous practice of drinking water from wells that have been out of commission.

The water conditions of the Indian Creek valley are far from reassuring, and these conditions effect a large area, the mains of the company running to Pittsburg by way of the Pennsylvania railroad, passing through Scottdale, Greensburg, Jeanette, Manor and other towns along that line, some of which are connected with the mains but not for regular use. However, it is possible that the water may be used to fill the tanks of the passenger cars of the Pennsylvania railroad, which is the virtual controller of the water supply, and these might affect the entire traveling public. The mains also go down the Monongahela valley and there will be a risk attached to the use of the water by any one along that system. It is believed the outbreak at Scottdale originated with the cases of typhoid fever which exist on the Indian Creek water shed and from which the water there has fallen a victim to the pollution. There are 30 nuisances also on the Indian Creek water shed and all these affect the water supply in the opinion of the State inspectors.

The Greenlick water shed is not so bad, but there are several cases of typhoid fever below the intake of the reservoirs, and it is feared the drainage may have affected the reservoir. On the water shed there were other conditions not to the ideas of the Health inspectors, and these must be abated.

Dr. N. E. Slesley, Secretary of the Scottdale Board of Health, has received a communication from the water company stating that no more Indian Creek water is being turned into the Scottdale mains. The company adds that care must be exercised in economizing the water as much as possible, as with a long drought the supply in the Greenlick reservoir is likely to become low. The company states that the analysis of water obtained by them shows no traces of typhoid and that the water is entirely safe. The State and local Health Boards, however, will not have any analysis made until conditions are remedied on both the water sheds.

TEXAS HURRICANE COST LIVES OF 14

Scores Were Injured and Property Loss Will Run into the Millions. News Not All In.

United Press Telegram.
HOUSTON, Texas, July 23.—In the wreckage of a dozen towns struck by a hurricane which swept miles of the Southern Texas rice country, 14 persons lost their lives, scores were injured and millions of dollars worth of damage was done. The full extent of the storm has not yet been received. Brazoria, Matagorda, Wharton and Jackson counties were struck by the storm. Reports coming in this morning indicate still more damage. Bay City, center of Matagorda county, seems to have been the storm center. There three persons were killed and more than half the buildings of the business section wrecked. The jail was dismantled but the prisoners in the cage in the center of the building was left standing and the prisoners exposed to the fury of the wind.

Loss of life has been reported at Eagle Lake, El Campo, Palacios, Wharton, Kenedy and Ramsey. In all of these places a number of persons were injured, some fatally. In all the district traversed by the storm wires are down and reports are coming in but slowly.

BOOSTERS' DAY ON AUGUST 18

Uniontown Will Be The Drawing Card on That Day and a Great Time Is Expected.

Arrangements are being made for a Boosters' Day on Wednesday, August 18, with Uniontown as the drawing card. This is a scheme which has been successful in other towns every season. Tickets will be sold at a dollar each, the idea being that the fans can help the team financially. As the demands for contributions have not been great this year, it is believed the Boosters' Day will prove a success financially.

A ruling has been made which may cripple the Cokers if they win the second season championship. On August 1 the teams must certify the players they will have eligible for the post season series. Fairmont is the only sure team, it having won the first season honor. It is believed that Connellsville has a shade the best of it on the second season title. The only handicap of the August 1 limit will be the fact that trouble is being experienced securing another pitcher.

When Youth Waives.
Old age has many deceptions, and middle age more. But you may take it that you are not really an old man so long as you take an interest in your personal appearance. There is not a nurse who does not know the signs of coquetry—when the patient wants to be shaved and put a good appearance in this world. And so long as the man of sixty can take an interest in the latest tie—and tie he is preserving his youth.—London Chronicle.

ORGANIZE A CHURCH AFTER BRIEF VISIT

Ministers of Christian Denomination Secure 52 Members for Marianna Church.

CHARLESTON, July 23.—Rev. H. C. Bobbitt, pastor of the Charleston Christian Church, accompanied by Rev. E. Beckler, pastor of the Monongahela Christian Church, Leslie Campbell of Australia, centennial secretary and Rev. Cowling, of Georgia, made a visit to Marianna, the object of the visit being a missionary tour in the interests of the Christian denomination.

After making a canvass of the 3,000 people who compose the town the quartet found 52 members of the Christian Church. Immediately another canvass was made and before the ministers left town they had virtually effected a church organization, secured a hall for an immediate place of meeting, had options on a lot for a church building and for plans for a church for a church building. (This is perhaps one of the quickest church extensions on record in the county.)

TUMOR OF FOUR YEARS GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

South Bend, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound removed a cyst tumor of four years' growth, which three of the best physicians declared I had. They said that only an operation could help me. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it has made me a strong and well woman, and I shall recommend it as long as I live."—Mrs. Mary Fry, Lindsay, Ind.

Town Booming Helps

IV.—Rah! Rah! Rah!

Two Americans meeting in Europe, one of them said, "I am from Jones' Siding."

"And I," said the other, throwing out his chest, "am from Chicago."

"Seems to me I've heard of that place. About how far is it from Jones' Siding?"

The Jones' Siding spirit is the kind that helps a town. This man considered his own home THE FINEST PLACE IN THE WORLD. If there are many more there like him Jones' Siding will some day be crowding other places off the map.

He was the kind of man who spends his money at home, who patronizes home industries, talks up his home town and helps to build it up. HE WAS A DESIRABLE CITIZEN.

The mail order houses couldn't do business with him unless they were located in his own town, for he knows that, as far as he was concerned, Jones' Siding was the center of the earth.

Think it over and see if we can't work up some of that Jones' Siding spirit right here!

LET US GET TOGETHER AND MAKE THINGS BOOM.

Every letter that is posted here should be an advertisement for the town, even the love letters, for we want the right kind of people to come here and settle.

Let's advertise ourselves, our home industries and our good prospects IN EVERY WAY POSSIBLE.

LOCAL DISTRICT IN THIRD CLASS.

The United States Census Bureau So Places It Industrially.

HOW IRON AND STEEL LEADS

In Region Surrounding Pittsburgh, Allegheny District Iron and Steel Products Amount to $142,779,114. Coke and Glass $43,000,000.

Dealing with the principal industrial districts of the United States, and prepared under the direction of William M. Stewart, Chief Statistician, the bulletin just issued by the Bureau of Census has much of interest to this section of the country.

It is shown that manufacture centers about cities, and that in importance the New York district stands first, the Chicago district second, and the Pittsburgh-Allegheny or local district in a third class.

There is a departure in classifying the products by districts instead of classifying them under specific industries. This gives an idea of the importance of the various industries in various sections, instead of giving the value of the different lines of industries alone. The bulletin has been prepared to show such data for 13 industrial districts for the years covered by the censuses of 1900 and 1905.

The area of the Pittsburgh-Allegheny district is 135 square miles and its population in 1900 was 625,542. The number of manufacturing establishments in 1904 was 1,359, and they employed 119,539 persons and put out products valued at $383,490,463. The iron and steel industries are the predominant ones in the district, and these produced an output valued at $233,371,972, or 60.9 per cent of the total value of the manufactures of the district. Foundry and machine shop products came second, with a value of $24,436,419 in 1904. Over four-fifths of the power of the district was used in the various branches of the iron and steel industry.

In the region surrounding the Pittsburgh-Allegheny district, iron and steel products to the value of $142,779,114 were manufactured, making a total of $378,151,093 for both district and surrounding places. The coke and glass industries had aggregate products valued at nearly $43,000,000.

The value of the products manufactured in Pittsburgh and Allegheny decreased 3.2 per cent, but the value of the outside places centering about these cities increased 41.6 per cent.

MAY FALL TO BRIAND

Avowed Socialist Asked to Become France's Premier.

Paris, July 23.—Aristide Briand, brilliant scholar, orator and avowed socialist and architect of the final chapters of the separation law, was announced to the Elysee palace last night and asked to reconstruct the Clemenceau cabinet. M. Briand stated that unless he could unite the Republican groups he would go no further.

President Fallieres, upon the advice of the parliamentary leaders, intended to make the first offer of the premiership to Leon Bourgeois, former minister of foreign affairs, but doubts regarding his acceptance of the post induced the president to give time by offering the premiership directly to M. Briand.

New Missionaries for the Congo.

Boston, July 23.—A proposal to withdraw all missionaries from the Congo and fill their places with Belgians has been received by the American Baptist Missionary union. "Such a proposal is almost too radical to be entertained," said officials of the union today, "but it is to be hoped that from this discussion some good may come to the Congo."

Object to "Typhoid Mary."

Lansing, Mich., July 23.—There is a growing sentiment in the community that if Reuben Gray makes good in his attempt to wed Mary Dillon, or "Typhoid Mary," he will be asked to carry his prize to some other section as the citizens of Lansing and vicinity do not relish the idea of having Mary as a permanent resident.

BUSINESS METHODS.

The Necessity of Advertising and the Efficiency of Salesmen.

A man may have several carloads of ability. He may have brains and ideas and other desirable things. But all the ideas ever "identified" will not avail to raise a man who neglects that all important item of advertising. You simply must get attention. Of course you can get attention by firing off a revolver during office hours or you can do it by wearing loud clothes and proclaiming your kinship in the sporting fraternity. But most men who have risen from the ranks have carefully neglected to use methods of this kind.

Every office man must act as his own salesman. He must first prepare himself by increasing his efficiency. He must be able to do the work for which he is hired. Not only should he be that for which he is hired, but he must do that work better than it ever was done before. When that item has been attended to it is then time to look about for more work.

The wise employee will keep his eye on the job ahead or, better still, will look at a job which does not exist, but which should exist for the good of the business. The next step is to think out a selling talk that will get the attention, arouse the interest, create a desire and bring about in the mind of the employer a desire to do what the live employee desires him to do.—Book-keeper.

Confessions.

The woman begged the bachelor girl not to go yet awhile. She was so urgent that the girl finally sat down again. Then she went perfectly still and silent, looking at each other.

"I know what you are thinking," said the bachelor girl by and by.

"What?" asked the woman.

"That, now you've got me to stay, you wonder why it was you insisted so. You don't know what to do with me or to say to me, now I'm here to stay."

"How did you guess it?" the woman laughed.

"I've felt just that way myself," said the bachelor girl, "many and many a time."—New York Press.

A Bad Hole to Get Into.

A gentleman was going round a strange golf course with a local caddy, and after playing part of the way he pointed to a rather high wall and inquired, "Is there a hole over there?"

"Yes, sir," replied the caddy solemnly; "there's the cemetery over there. Don't put yourself into a hole there if you can help it."—London Scraps.

REPLICA OF HENRY HUDSON'S HALF MOON, WHICH HAS JUST ARRIVED AT NEW YORK

The Half Moon, the replica of Henry Hudson's discovery ship, arrived in New York after a twelve day voyage on the deck of the steamship Seventyfour of the Holland-America line. The little vessel is sent over as a gift from the people of the Netherlands in honor of the Hudson-Putnam celebration, which is to be held next fall. The Half Moon is built of oak, with a high poop and long nosed bow. Her length is seventy-four feet, beam sixteen feet, depth ten feet and her tonnage eighty tons. The little vessel could have sailed across the Atlantic just as she sails the seas nowadays. Her sails, ropes, masts and spars are all in keeping with the marine architecture of Hudson's time. She is equipped with two miniature cannons, placed amidships and in her cabin is a "library" such as Hudson had—a Bible, a prayer book and a few books of voyages. A chart is spread out on the table, and near by are a sand glass, compass and the few crude nautical instruments known to navigators 400 years ago. The little ship will sail up from Sandy Hook and up the Hudson accompanied by a large fleet of mixed craft.

THE MODERN FIGURE.

How to Regain Beauty of Form.

The vagaries of Fashion are a great trial to ladies inclined to overeatness; but it is a great mistake to go in for physical portliness in the shape of special diets. Fastings and violent exercises are also dangerous. One very soon becomes limp, depressed and salivary of complexion when such methods of getting thin are adopted. There is absolutely no necessity to study dietetics or deprive one's self of wholesome food and bodily comforts.

The following is a prescription which will restore beauty of form without any sacrifice of health or strength. Any druggist will make it up for you or supply the harmless ingredients, viz: 1/2 oz. Marmulin, 1/2 oz. Fluid Extract Casarea Aromatica, and 3/4 oz. Peppermint Water. The dose is one teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Don't be afraid of a good appetite, especially as the digestive system will be much benefited by this simple treatment. Indeed, the whole body is beautified, and the reduction of weight occasions no wrinkles. The skin and complexion are rebeautified.

We Are Now Booking Orders for Early Deliveries of

1910 White Steam Cars

The reputation of the White Steamer as the most satisfactory car for all-around use has been further strengthened by the recent modifications in design whereby, if desired, kerosene may be used as fuel instead of gasoline. The drivers of White cars may now enjoy the advantages of a cheap fuel which can be handled with impunity and which can be procured at any cross-roads store or at almost any farmhouse. So thoroughly have we solved the kerosene problem that, when a car is in operation, it is impossible for any one to tell, whether kerosene or gasoline is being used. If it is desired, the fuel may be changed promptly from kerosene to gasoline, or vice versa.

The White Steamer is now in its tenth year before the public, and, in the opinion of owners, it affords a higher degree of motoring satisfaction than any other type of car. The White is by far the easiest car to operate, the directions for driving it being summed up in the phrase, "Just open the throttle and steer." It is the only car with which all variations of speed may be obtained without changing gears; it is easiest on tires and it is the only car which is noiseless, odorless and free from vibration.

The United States Government, which makes its purchases only after careful tests, owns more White Steamers than all other makes combined.

IT FILLED COKE RESERVOIRS

A New Pastor For the Reformed Church—Rev. McGuire Is Home From Europe—Freight Business Is Heavy Now.

SCOTSDALE, July 23.—A heavy and continued rain visited this section last evening, and for the greater part of the night the steady fall of the rain caused some farmers to rejoice and others to feel gloomy. The former had not mowed any grass, and therefore looked upon the rain as an unalloyed benefit to the growing corn and potatoes. There was a little thunder and lightning, and the wind blew, but no damage was reported from either source, although in Scottdale the huge canvas sign stretched across Pittsburgh street advertising the Scottdale and Everson Business men's picnic was blown loose at one end and fell in the street, so that it had to be taken down for repairs this morning. The rain did not disturb the people who went on the Idlewild or Fleck picnic to Oakford park. In Westmoreland county about Hunter and Jeannette said, in North Huntingdon township the storm is reported to have done considerable damage in washing out fields and roads and carrying away chimneys. About Youngwood and New Stanton the rainfall was very violent. All the reservoirs of the coke companies got a good supply of water from the rain.

Visiting in Philadelphia.
Mrs. J. E. Thustman and daughter, Millo, have gone to Philadelphia, where they will visit for several weeks in the Quaker City, at the home of the former's brother, E. L. Rutherford.

Rev. Frank McGuire Returning.
Rev. Frank M. McGuire, a son of Rev. and Mrs. John McGuire, the former of whom resided in Scottdale and was pastor at the Jacobs Creek Methodist Episcopal Church, will arrive in this section sometime soon to spend a month about here and in Pittsburgh where his father is located. Rev. McGuire has been spending a year in Europe in study at the European universities, and following his visit here will return to Mexico, to resume his ministerial duties.

Paving Has Been Begun.
Harry Hall & Company of Homestead who have the contract for the grading, curbing and paving of Market street from Broadway to Grove street, began laying brick on the end starting up from Broadway this morning. He has also started grading the part of Grove street that will connect Market street and Pittsburgh street, thus making a gridiron of paved streets in the town. The work has been moved along nicely and it is expected will be completed at an early date.

Reformed Church Gets a Pastor.
Rev. W. J. Muller, it is reported from Sharon, has resigned his pastorate of the Reformed Church there, where he has been the minister in charge for nine years, to accept a call to the Reformed Church at Scottdale. The church has been without a pastor since Rev. C. R. Finner resigned his pastorate after several years' successful labors and became the president of the new National bank at Mt. Pleasant. Rev. Muller will take up his new work soon.

Heavy Freight From Here.
The freight business out of Scottdale is reported to be about the normal stage if not better, since the resumption of the coke works generally throughout the region. The Pennsylvania railroad has a very heavy freight out of here every day, and with the Scottdale furnace, the American Sheet & Tin Plate Company's plants running full, the U. S. Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry Company's plant running strong, there are from 30 to 40 loads taken out of this place every night. A special crew comes down from Youngstown and the loads are also used as fillers to trains that are coming through from other points without a full train load. The Everson business on the B. & O. and the P. & R. is reported increasing rapidly on both, and everything is in good condition.

MORTGAGE IS RAISED.

Clearing of Debt Feature of Outing at Pythian Home.

BUTLER, Pa., July 23.—The annual outing and donation day of the Western Pennsylvania Pythian Home Association at the Pythian Home near Harmony, yesterday was attended by over 3,000 persons. A picnic dinner was served at noon on the home grounds.

The mortgage of $4,000 on the building, which was erected in 1906, at a cost of $75,000, including the property, was raised and the papers burned. J. T. Senbrow of Uniontown, president of the association, was master of ceremonies. Open air addresses had to be abandoned on account of a heavy shower in the afternoon.

KILLING STORIES VARY.

Naval Board Hears Much Contradictory Testimony.

Annapolis, Md., July 23.—The remarkable variance in the testimony of some of the naval officers who are witnesses before the court of inquiry which is investigating the circumstances surrounding the death of Lieutenant James N. Sutton, was emphasized by contradictory evidence as to the location of the bullet wound which caused the young Oregonian's death.

The question of the location of the wound has assumed importance in the face of other evidence given, as it would appear that it would have been a much more difficult matter for Sutton to have shot himself, lying prone on the ground with three men on top of him, if the bullet entered the top of his skull, as Surgeon George Pickrell, in charge of the marine hospital at that time, who examined Sutton's body, testified it did.

Awkward Demonstration in Court.
Colonel Charles A. Doyen, commandant of marines at that time, testified that he examined Sutton's body immediately after the shooting, felt the wound in his head and that it was located on the right side a little behind and on a line with the top of the ear. Dr. Pickrell thought Sutton might have inflicted the wound upon himself, as he described it, but he made an unconvincing and awkward demonstration in court with the revolver and a free right arm to get the weapon in a position which would have sent the bullet into his head at the point where he testified it entered Sutton's head.

Lieutenant Willing made an obstinate and unsatisfactory witness under cross-examination. The few discrepancies which Mr. Davis drew from him by reading the record of his description of the scene of the shooting of the former inquiry were readily conceded by Lieutenant Willing with the remark that he testified from the best of his recollection on both occasions.

What Became of Revolvers?
Mr. Davis tried to find out from all the witnesses what became of Sutton's two revolvers following the shooting. Colonel Doyen testified that he saw them and ordered Lieutenant Willing to take charge of them, but he did not know what became of them until they finally got into his hands at the inquest.

Sergeant James DeHart of the marine corps testified that some officer at the scene of the shooting handed him a revolver with the command to "take this." It was dark and he could not see who the officer was. DeHart soon afterward threw the revolver into the bushes on his way to the barracks and on going out to look for it next morning could not find it, he testified.

Not only did Sergeant DeHart contradict the testimony of all the officers of marines who have given evidence as to the identity of those who were holding Lieutenant Sutton down when he was shot, in that he positively denied helping to do this, but he declared that he did not touch Lieutenant Sutton at any time.

FORTUNE TO SERVANT.

Disappearance of Stocks and Bonds Explained.

Chicago, July 23.—How a fairy in the shape of an old invalid woman came into the life of a house servant and her crippled brother was told in the probate court here.

Edward Morrison sought to know what had become of $79,000 worth of bonds and stocks which his wife, Barbara Morrison, had just before she died left Mrs. Kate Hiller, the daughter of an elevator conductor, and her crippled brother, Carl Hauber, were called upon to explain. Mrs. Hiller and her husband were arrested just as they were about to board a liner for Europe. This is Mrs. Hiller's story:

"I knew Mrs. Morrison for nine years. I was called to her home to act as housekeeper for ten months. She took an interest in my crippled brother.

"On July 4, 1908, she called me to a couch in her room.

"Dear, I have something for you," she said.

"Then she went to a closet and brought out a tin box. She opened it and handed me one package, telling me that it held $70,000 in money, which was for myself. Then she took another package containing bonds valued at $79,000, which she said I should give to my brother. She said: 'Here, my child, take this and keep it. Do with it as you wish and may God bless you and make you rich. I hope that you have much luck.'"

EIGHTEEN LIVES LOST.

Great Damage Inflicted on the Gulf Coast By Hurricane.

Houston, Tex., July 23.—The West India hurricane, which swept from one end of the Texas gulf coast to the other, caused a sacrifice of eighteen human lives, fatal injuries of four other persons, and serious wounding of sixteen, according to the full details of the storm. Whole towns were devastated and the damage through wrecking and ruining of property will exceed $1,000,000.

The territory around Bay City seems to have been the center of the storm. For four hours a seventy-mile wind swept across the Bay City region, carrying everything before it. Velasco, a small town near Bay City, is reported demolished. Every building was unroofed or partly demolished and the town lies in four feet of water.

PROPHESIES NEW RELIGION

That Will Not Be Bound by Dogma or Creed.

PREVENTION THE WATCHWORD

Charles W. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard, Expresses His Belief Before Summer School of Theology. Not Attempt to Reconcile People.

Cambridge, Mass., July 23.—Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, in an address before the Harvard summer school of theology, prophesied the advent of a new religion.

"It will not be bound to dogma or creed," he said. "Its workings will be simple, but its field of action limitless. Its discipline will be the waiting in the development of co-operative good will. It will attack all forms of evil. There will be no supernatural element, it will place no reliance on anything but the laws of nature. Prevention will be the watchword and a skilled surgeon one of its members.

The coming religion, he thought, will be based on the two great commandments—the love of God and the service of fellowmen.

"The new religion," he said, "will not be based upon authority; the future generation is to be led, not driven. In the new religion there will be no personification of natural objects; there will be no deification of remarkable human beings.

"The new religion will not teach that character can be changed quickly. It will not deal chiefly with sorrow and death, but with joy and life.

"God will be so imminent that no intermediary will be needed. Its priests will strive to improve social and industrial conditions. The new religion will not attempt to reconcile people to present illa by the promise of future compensation."

HOLD STORMY SESSION

President Lewis Calms Delegates at Miners' Convention.
Wilkes-Barre, Pa., July 23.—The United Mineworkers had another stormy session, but National President Lewis appeared in opportune time in the convention and calmed matters to a great extent.

He stated emphatically that laws of the United Mineworkers must and shall be obeyed and that he will not allow any political tricks to be played in the convention. He stated that if the officers of locals did not do their duty in accordance with the constitution and by-laws or practice chicanery of any kind they would be summarily removed if charges could be proved. Resolutions were adopted censuring the courts of Luzerne and Lackawanna counties for failure to appoint men recommended by the United Mineworkers as members of the miners' examining board and also condemning the Republican legislature for its extreme hostility to all labor measures.

STAY IS GRANTED

First Capitol Conspiracy Cases Go Over to October.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 23.—The supreme court has granted a stay in the first capital conspiracy cases against ex-Auditor General William P. Snyder of Spring City and ex-Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings James M. Shumaker of Johnstown until it shall have passed upon a rule upon which argument will be heard in Pittsburgh in October next.

The order keeps the records out of the local court until the supreme court meets in Pittsburgh in October. As long as the records are not on file with the local court the commonwealth's hands are tied.

VAULT AUCTIONED OFF

Creditors Compel Sale of Family Sepulchre.

Greensburg, Pa., July 23.—The spectacle of a vault wherein lay the owner's dead being disposed of at forced public sale was witnessed at the old Unity cemetery, connected with the Unity Presbyterian church. The sale was necessitated by the insistence of a few creditors of the owner, once a wealthy Latrobe citizen. These creditors demanded that the cemetery property be sold and the proceeds divided.

The vault was finally sold to J. J. Peppardy for $745. Notice was promptly given on the part of the owner that the sale would be contested.

PLEADS TO STOP TRAFFIC

Canal Zone Officer Wants End Put to White Slave Business.

New York, July 23.—The plea for the stoppage of the "white slave" traffic between the United States and the canal zone is contained in a letter from Second Lieutenant C. W. Barber, assistant chief of police of the zone.

Writing to former Police Commissioner Bingham Lieutenant Barber declares that many American girls and principally actresses have been lured to Panama and "that the life led there would make your heart bleed."

Shippers of Gold Take No Chances.
New York, July 23.—Mechanics labored all night reinforcing the strong room on board the steamer Verdi, which sailed with $8,000,000 in gold, for the banks of Buenos Ayres and for the Argentine Republic. While no piratical crews are expected to be met, the shippers of the treasure are not taking any chances.

HALF MOON ARRIVES

Reproduction of Henry Hudson's Vessel in New York.

New York, July 23.—Three hundred years after her original famous voyage the reproduction of Henry Hudson's vessel, the Half Moon, or the Halve Maen, as the Dutch have it, came into New York harbor on the deck of the Dutch freighter Boesdyk. Built in Amsterdam, Holland, by public subscription under the patronage of the highest personages of the country, the new Half Moon was sent here as Holland's popular contribution to the Hudson-Fulton celebration commemorating the discovery of the Hudson river from the deck of the original Half Moon and Robert Fulton's epoch-making steamship voyage.

Germany Will Participate.
Berlin, July 23.—The German government has forwarded its acceptance of the invitation of the United States to participate in the Hudson-Fulton celebration in the autumn. Four warships will represent Germany.

ORCHARD IS BAPTIZED

Contented Now to Remain Behind Bars Next of Life.

Boise, Ida., July 23.—Harry Orchard, murderer of former Governor Shoup of Idaho, according to his confession, was baptized at the penitentiary. The service was read by Elder Steward, a Seventh Day Adventist.

Elder Steward made the following statement after the ceremony: "Orchard is a devout convert and feels his sins have been forgiven. He told me he had fully determined to commit suicide if sent up for life, but that in his faith he had found consolation and was content to remain behind the prison walls for the rest of his natural life."

KILL THE GERMS.

That's the Only Way to Cure Dandruff, and Parisian Sage is the Only Killer.

"Parisian Sage," said a New York barber, "will kill the destructive and persistent germs of dandruff, and abolish the disease. There may be other remedies that will do the same, but I never heard of one."

And just read what one of the foremost barbers of Springfield, Mass., says of Parisian Sage.

Dear Sirs: "I used Parisian Sage and found it better than any other. It is the best hair restorer I ever used, and I have used them all. I find it a great dandruff remover also. You should get it into all the barber shops and get the barbers to use it, as it is great."—George A. Stultz, 734 1/2 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Parisian Sage soaks into the scalp, and when it reaches the roots of the hair it not only kills every dandruff germ, but it supplies the hair with just the right kind of nourishment to put vigor and strength into it and make it grow.

Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair dressing in the world. It makes women's hair soft, silky and luxuriant. Use it one week and you will like it.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by A. A. Clarke to stop falling hair, to cure dandruff, to keep hair from fading, to cure itching of the scalp, or money back.

It is for sale by leading druggists everywhere. When you buy Parisian Sage you get for 50 cents a big bottle of the best hair tonic in the world. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle of Parisian Sage.

The inevitable has at last come, and like a crash of thunder, as our creditors are persistent in their one cry of "Money, Money," and we find that we are "Forced" to comply with their last demand or close our doors. But how can we raise the money? is what puzzled us for weeks past and "Failure" staring us in the face. Our locating on 220 North Pittsburg Street is due to expectation of finding business much brighter than it has been in years, which prompted us to buy very heavily from New York markets, consisting of thousands of dollars worth of new, clean and saleable merchandise, and patiently awaited better times. But instead, we were soon aware of the fact that on account of a large percentage of men not working, crippled business in every form. But that was no excuse, for creditors who repeatedly gave us an extension of time, and as a final resolve to obtain what is rightfully due them without causing any trouble, allowed us to place the entire stock in the hands of the Chicago Adjustment Company to raise the money. We are caught, we confess, but will, however, make one bold and decisive stand in order to save ourselves from failure. To do this we will throw our entire stock upon the counters at the ridiculous amount of 30c ON THE DOLLAR. Remember, this will be a chance of a lifetime.

SUES TO RECOVER FROM AN ESTATE.

Mrs. Goodwin Alleges That She Was Not Paid an Allowance.

ARE MEMBERS OF OLD FAMILY

Mrs. Goodwin Married Dr. Goodwin Secretly Years Ago, and Then Went to Ireland—When She Came Back He Had Taken a Wife.

UNIONTOWN, July 23.—An interesting case, involving members of one of the old line families of Southern Fayette county, is revived in the action started by Mrs. Annie Goodwin against Charles P. Goodwin, executor of the last will and testament of the late James R. Goodwin, the father of Annie Goodwin's husband. Her husband's name is Dr. J. R. Goodwin. He is a practicing physician in the township and county districts out back of Smithfield and belongs to the old and highly respected Goodwin family so well known in this county.

Charles P. Goodwin was named as executor when the senior J. R. Goodwin died about a year ago. The estate was a very large and valuable one. Mrs. Annie Goodwin claims $558 with interest on the amount, so calculated as to keep the jury that gets it going for a long time to determine the amount to which she is entitled if she wins. She claims this money for the support of her daughter Annie, a girl of about 16 years of age, as the result of an order of court made by Judge S. L. McCreter in 1885 when the mother brought action for the support of the child. It will be remembered that these parties were in such a case as this in court here last December. At that time unusual interest attached to the case because of the fact that the doctor had built up a fair practice out in the country many had either never learned of the case or else had forgotten it.

But Mrs. Goodwin had not forgotten. She testified last spring that the doctor was a medical student in Philadelphia, when she was a seamstress in a house nearby, and that they became well acquainted and he married her. The couple did not do much house-keeping, however, for it was agreed that she leave immediately following the ceremony and go to visit her mother in Ireland. Meanwhile the doctor was to graduate not say anything about the wedding until he had gotten his diploma and a good start in his professional career. She says that he did not get along at first quite as rapidly as he had expected, but that she believed his reasons so given, and stayed in the old country for a year or more, looking forward to the time when he would tell her to come back to America, where he would have a home and a handsome competence to take care of her and her child, who had been born abroad.

After a while, realizing that she was not getting back to America very quickly, and learning that her husband was sick, she came to America, first having worked a while to earn enough for crossing the ocean. When she got to America she learned that he had gone west in an effort to regain his health and start over again. After appealing to some friends and working some more, she started west and met him in a small town near Illinois. He put her and the child in a hotel and stayed with them a while. She says that she discovered that as had previously secured a divorce without her knowledge, it evidently having been granted upon failure to locate her, if any efforts to do so were made.

Mrs. Goodwin also claimed that she found a ring in the doctor's pocket with another woman's name engraved therein; and great was the surprise of everybody when she flashed the ring in court last winter, nearly 10 years after having found it in his coat at the hotel. About the time the divorce was discovered by her out west she says the doctor started on a long eastern trip and came to this region and across the mountains into West Virginia, near Bruceton, taking with him, she claims, the other woman. This other woman died over there, and was buried in the West Virginia mountains some time before Mrs. Goodwin had time to raise funds to come east to find the husband. When she got to Bruceton her husband had moved down into the southern part of the State. The determined wife came back to Uniontown, and several efforts were made to locate the doctor at that time—about six years ago—but failed. She saved for a living and then went back to Philadelphia.

Last winter, learning that the doctor had settled in his old home region, she decided to come back here, and did so, arriving here on winter night with less than enough money to get a place for the night. That was in December, and she immediately sought assistance. It takes some time to get the little formalities of county assistance attended to, and during the interval Sheriff P. A. Johns kindly gave her money for lodging at the Salvation Army hall, and was about to escort her there, when she happened to inquire if a woman who had sheltered her on a similar occasion 10 years ago still lived there. She had forgotten the woman's name, but Mr. Johns knows everybody, and though the woman had moved to another street, he sent the friendless woman and child there, where they were accorded shelter as long as they needed it.

When Mrs. Goodwin had instituted the first desertion proceedings in 1895, the doctor was then declared to be in destitute circumstances and in accordance with an act of assembly providing for such cases, the court made an order upon the father of the child, Anna, was ordered to pay to the mother the sum of $16 maintenance, and $2 per week thereafter until further orders. J. R. Goodwin, Sr., seems to have obeyed the order from June 1, 1896, until November, 1898. Then for some reason the payments were shut off.

Charging that she has received no maintenance since that time, a period of 494 weeks to June 1, 1908, and asking that the sum of $2 per week, with interest thereon, and the several amounts become due, they being payable monthly, she has brought suit.

Last winter when the desertion and non-support case was revived against Dr. Goodwin he was sentenced by the court to pay the wife $35 per month for the support of the child, and Charles P. Goodwin went his bond in the sum of $500 to perform the same. The defense, when the doctor has been in court, usually has been that he is not worth as much as his wife says, that he has not a lucrative practice because he is in ill health, and cannot build up one, and that while he may be worth something from the estate of his father that this is tied up until his mother dies.

The child, the principal object of the troubles, is one of the brightest and most attractive children that ever was brought into court, and her appearance there was the occasion of considerable comment, and the court was visibly affected by the demeanor and appearance of the little girl at the time. The court made the order for the full limit of the law providing for such cases, and it is said expressly that the full sworn income of the father—about twice that amount—could not be ordered paid over.

It is not known what the line of defense will be in this action against the executor, as the executor is not supposed to file any affidavit of defense in matters of this kind brought against the estate.

Approving the application for character Gov. E. S. Stuart has returned to the court house for record the papers in the matter of the Uniontown Shoe Company, a newly organized concern. The application sets forth several things of interest. The concern is to be a wholesale house, and will buy and sell at wholesale, boots, shoes, rubber goods and leather and all other goods usually kept and handled in the conduct of a wholesale shoe store. The incorporators are three well known Uniontown men. J. A. Rockwell has 50 shares, W. H. Feather 12, and L. M. Jones 40 shares of the stock, the par value of which is $100. The concern is capitalized at $25,000. J. A. Rockwell is the treasurer and has received the usual first 10 per cent payment on capital stock. Directors are J. G. Harris, Udel; A. L. Clovis, Now Shism, and Messrs. Feather, Rockwell and Jones.

Denying that they owe the money sued for in an action of assumpsit started some time ago by the West Penn Oil & Gas Company, the Star Gas Company, through counsel, Attorney T. F. Jones, filed its affidavit of defense Thursday afternoon. The plaintiff had put in a claim for $333.33 for gas consumed, and the defendant had admitted the debt, and explained its non payment as due to the plaintiff's refusal to accept the voucher made out for it. Later on the plaintiff discovered that the defendant had used $1,100 worth more of gas. The voucher was refused because the company claimed that there were four days' gas supply not included therein, as per contract. The defense explains these matters in its reply.

In the divorce proceedings of Mary C. Shuman against her husband, Jimmie W. Shuman, of Smock, Attorney C. A. Rhoads, the master who took the testimony on June 24, the woman has been given the benefit of the testimony adduced and the divorce was recommended by the master, who filed his report on Thursday.

ANOTHER NEW CASE.

Dr. R. A. Gans Sends Samples of Rocks Woods Water.

Another new case of typhoid fever was discovered yesterday at Rocks woods, near Seaford, where in 27 hours the master who took the testimony on June 24, the woman has been given the benefit of the testimony adduced and the divorce was recommended by the master, who filed his report on Thursday.

Six samples of the water were sent to the state chemist at Philadelphia yesterday by Dr. R. A. Gans, who is attending the patients. In a recent analysis of water from a 200-foot well there the chemist reported 200,000 typhoid bacteria to the cubic centimeter; another sample showed 12,000 bacteria to the same quantity and still another 22,000.

POLICE SHOOT WILD

Lives of Chicagoans Endangered by Dog Crusade.

Chicago, July 23.—One man was shot, the lives of scores of persons were endangered in a crowded district in the loop and seventy-one canines were killed in the police department's dog crusade.

The dog hunt throughout the city during the day was characterized by reckless shooting on the part of policemen. Arthur Lindenmeyer was shot in the leg by an excited policeman while on a crowded street.

LIGHT APPEARS THROUGH CLOUDS.

Tariff Bill Conference Takes on a Brighter Aspect.

EARLY AGREEMENT EXPECTED

President Taft's Intervention Has Brought About Harmony—Leaders of Senate and House Are Getting Together.

Washington, July 23.—President Taft has brought about a tangible situation with regard to the tariff where uncertainty existed before.

At a consultation at the White House last night, participated in by the president, Senator Aldrich and Representative Payne, the chief executive was assured that a harmonious settlement of the differences existing between the two branches of congress is practicable.

It is evident that the president, by informing the conferees that the disputed points were before them for settlement, brought about a condition that augurs well for an early agreement on a conference report. The chief executive was able to get a better insight into the obstacles to the "free raw material" plan by his conference with the two leaders than was possible in so large a gathering as that which was present at his dinner.

Senator Aldrich met a large number of senators who are opposed to free hides, coal and iron ore, and no encouragement was offered for the placing of any of these articles on the free list.

Tariff Insurgents Protest.
The tariff insurgents in the house who are opposed to free raw materials met again and adopted resolutions protesting against the plan. They designated Representatives Gaines of West Virginia, Mendall of Wyoming, and Kennedy of Ohio as a committee to confer with Representative Payne. The latter did not offer the insurgents much encouragement.

conferences declared that the plan to reduce the rates on leather goods to compensate for free hides was not feasible without long delay and that the president undoubtedly would accept the judgment of the conferees on this point.

With regard to the free reciprocity provision on coal in the house bill there also was a firm stand. The members interested in coal declared that such a provision would make the situation with regard to coal untenable for the operatives and that a reduction in the senate rate without a clause for reciprocal free trade was more acceptable.

Nominal Duty on Iron Ore.
That a nominal duty on iron ore will be agreed to by the conferees was indicated. No determination as to the rate has been suggested, but the opinion is expressed by several of the conferees that it will be one that will place the domestic and imported ores on an equal footing at the Atlantic seaboard. It is understood that Representative Payne is insisting on absolutely free ore.

Owing to the diversified opinions expressed with regard to oil, it is more than likely that the conference report will place petroleum on the free list without a countervailing duty proposition. The house insurgents have indicated their willingness to concede free oil if the other raw materials are made dutiable.

BODY FOUND IN TRUNK.

Murder Mystery Baffles the Police of Lynn, Mass.

Lynn, Mass., July 23.—Another trunk murder mystery was added to criminal annals by the finding of the body of Minos K. Monjlan in the room of Yahan Nalbandian in a boarding house here. There was a bullet wound and several knife wounds in the breast.

The body, which was fully clothed, probably had been put in the trunk Saturday night or early Sunday morning. That the motive for the murder was not robbery is shown by the fact that the man's bank book, his gold watch and chain and some loose change were found in his pockets.

The police are anxious to find Nalbandian, who is also known as Frank Jones, whom they believe may be able to throw light on the mystery.

Jerome Called Into Thaw Case.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 23.—It has been practically decided that District Attorney Jerome of New York county will be called into the Thaw case when the hearings are resumed at White Plains.

FIGHT DEPORTATION.

Give Battle to the Immigration Inspectors in New York.

New York, July 23.—A pitched battle was fought in Brooklyn between immigration inspectors and a band of twenty-four Gypsies who were being deported to South America. The trouble had its origin in the refusal of the Gypsies to board the steamer Verdi, which was to take them to Buenos Ayres.

In the heat of the melee several children of the band were injured by reason of their parents using them as shields. In several instances the parents pushed the bodies of children against the inspectors who were trying to drive them from a tug to the steamer. One little girl was unconscious when the vessel sailed with the Gypsies.

The Gypsies believed they were to be returned to Russia, their home, and when they realized that they must go back to South America, which country they had just left, their rage knew no bounds. The women fought with more fury than the men.

SHOOT DOWN WOMAN

Murderer Then Attempts Suicide But Is Unsuccessful.

Pittsburg, July 23.—Two bullets already in her body, a woman, crawling on her hands and knees along a roadway and uttering piercing screams, a man following, revolver in hand, firing the final shot through her back that killed her troubles; this was the tragedy which startled residents in the West End.

The woman settled, her slayer turned upon himself, attempting suicide by slashing his throat with a razor and was about to make doubly sure with carbolic acid when overpowered.

Spent Their Money Too Freely.
Cheyenne, Wyo., July 23.—The lavish expenditure of money for champagne by William White and R. W. Stockwell of Rock Creek led to the arrest of the two men at Laramie and the recovery of a large sum of money believed by officers to be a portion of the loot secured by bandits several years ago in a Union Pacific train robbery at Wilcox.

John D. Transfers More Property.
New York, July 23.—John D. Rockefeller continues the transfer of property to members of his family by deeding the house at 5 West Fifty-third street to his daughter, Aida, now Mrs. E. Parnesless Prentice.

Two Trainmen Killed.
Bridgeport, N. J., July 23.—A collision of freight trains at Bridgeport Junction, near here, resulted in the death of two railroad employees and the serious injury of another.

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR M'OUTGHEON

Copyright, 1909, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

"After a moment Lady Agnes said dreamily: 'I climbed up the ladder to make a ladyship of myself by marriage, and I find I love my husband. I dare say you should go down the ladder a few rungs, my dear, you might be as lucky. But take my advice. If you won't marry Hollingsworth Chase, don't let him come to Paris.'"

The Princess Genevra lifted her face instantly, a startled expression in her eyes.

"Agnes, you forget yourself!"

"My dear," murmured Lady Agnes sleepily, "forgive me, but I have such a shockingly sweet mind." She was asleep a moment later.

In the meantime Bobby Browne, disdaining all commands and entreaties, refused to be put to bed until he had related the story of their capture and the subsequent events that made the night memorable. He sat with his rigid arm about his wife's shoulders. Drusilla was stroking one of his hands in a half-conscious manner, her eyes staring past his face toward the dark forest from which he had come. Mr. Britt was ordering brandy for his trembling client.

"After all," said Browne, hoarse with nervousness, "there is some good to be derived from our experiences, hard as it may be to believe. I have found out the means by which Raula intends to destroy every living creature in the chateau." Chase threw off his spell of languidness and looked hard at the speaker. "Raula coolly asked me at one of our resting places if there had been any symptoms of poisoning among us. I mentioned food and the servants. The devil laughed gleefully in my face and told me that it was but the beginning. I tell you, Chase, we can't escape the diabolical scheme he has arranged. The water that comes to us from the springs up there in the hills is to be poisoned by those devils. I heard Raula giving instructions to one of his lieutenants. He thought I was still unconscious from a blow I received when I tried to interfere in behalf of Lady Agnes, who was being roughly dragged along the mountain road. Day and night a detachment of men are to be employed at the springs, deliberately engaged in the attempt to change the flow of pure water into a slow, subtle, deadly poison, the effects of which will not be immediately fatal, but positively so in the course of a few days. 'In the end we shall sicken and die as with the scourge. They will call it the plague.'"

A shudder of horror swept through the crowd. Every one looked into his neighbor's face with a profound inquiring light in his eyes, seeking for the first time evidence of approaching death.

Hollingsworth Chase uttered a short, scornful laugh as he unconsciously lifted a match to one of his precious cigarettes. The others stared at him in amazement.

"Great God, Chase," groaned Browne, "is this a joke?"

"Yes, and it's on Raula," said the other ironically. "You say that Raula isn't aware of the fact that you overheard what he said to his man. Then, even now, in spite of your escape, he believes that we may go on drinking the water without in the least suspecting what it has in store for us. Good! That's why I say the joke is on him. Browne, you are a doctor, a chemist. Well, we'll distill and double and triple distill the water. That's all. A schoolboy might have thought of that. It's all right, old man. You're fagged out. Your brain isn't working well. Don't look so crestfallen. Mr. Britt, you and Mr. Saunders will give immediate instructions that no more water is to be drunk or used until Mr. Browne has had a few hours' rest. He can take an alcohol bath, and we can all drink wine. It won't hurt us. At 10 o'clock when Dr. Browne will begin operating the distilling apparatus in the laboratory. By Jove, will you listen to the row my clients are making out there in the woods! They seem to be annoyed over something."

Outside the walls the blinds were shouting and calling to each other. Hides were cracking far and near, voices in their peculiarly spectral way the rage that reigned supreme.

As Chase ascended the steps Bobby Browne and his wife came up beside him.

"Chase," said Browne in a low voice, his face turned away to hide the mortification that filled his soul, "you are a man! I want you to know that I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

"Never mind, old man! Say no more," interrupted Chase, suddenly embarrassed.

"I've been a fool, Chase. I don't deserve the friendship of any one—not even that of my wife. It's all over, though. You understand? I'm not a coward. I'll do anything you say, take any risk, to pay for the trouble I've caused you all. Send me out to

29. According to the will, if Agnes Rutheven and Robert Browne were not married to each other before the close of that day all of their rights in the estate were lost to them.

Tomorrow would be the last day of residence required. But, Chase, was it to be the last that they were to spend in the world forsaken land?

No later than that morning a steamer—a small Dutch freighter—had come to a stop off the harbor, but it turned tail and fled within an hour. No one came ashore. The malevolent tug went out and turned back the landing party which was ready to leave the ship's side. The watchers in the chateau knew what it was that the tug's captain shouted through his trumpet at a safe distance from the steamer. The black and yellow flags at the end of the company's pier lent color to a gruesome story. The hopeless look deepened in the eyes of the watchers.

Hollingsworth Chase alone maintained a stubborn air of confidence and unconcern.

"Don't be downhearted, Bowles," he said to the mooping British agent. "You'll soon be managing the bank again and patronizing the American bar with the same old regularity."

There had been several vicious assaults upon the gates by the infuriated islanders during the day following the rescue of the heirs. Some powerful influence suddenly exerted itself to restore them to a state of calmness. They withdrew to the town, apparently defeated. The cause was obvious—Raula had convinced them that death already was lifting his hand to blot out the lives of those who opposed them.

Bobby Browne was accomplishing wonders in the laboratory. He seldom was seen outside the distilling room. His assiduity was marked, if not commented upon. Hour after hour he stood watch over the water that went up in vapor and returned to the crystal liquid that was more precious than rubies and sapphires.

Drusilla kept close to his side during these operations. She seemed afraid or ashamed to join the others. She avoided Lady Deppingham as completely as possible. Her effort to be friendly when they were thrown together was almost pitiable.

As for Lady Agnes, she seemed stricken by an unconquerable lassitude. The spirits that had controlled her voice, her look, her movements, were sadly missing. More than once, Genevra had caught her watching Deppingham with eyes that spoke volumes.

"My dear boy, it's most magnificent of you!" cried Chase merrily. "But I'm afraid you can't decide the question in such an offhand manner. Take good care of him, Mrs. Browne. Don't let him talk."

She held out her hand to him impulsively. As he gallantly lifted the cold fingers to his lips she said, without taking her almost hungry gaze from his face: "Thank you, Mr. Chase. I shall never forget you."

He stood there looking after them as they went up the stairway, a puzzled expression in his face.

"I guess he'll be a good boy from now on." But he wondered what it was that he had seen or felt in her sullen gaze.

In fifteen minutes he was sound asleep in his room, his long frame relaxed, his hands wide open in utter fatigue. He dreamed of a Kenner girl with Genevra's brilliant face instead of the vague, greenish features that haunt the vision with their subtle mysticism.

He was awakened at noon by Selim, who obeyed his instructions to the minute. The eager Arab rubbed the soreness and stiffness out of his master's body with copious applications of alcohol.

"I'm sorry you awoke me, Selim," said the master emphatically. Selim drew back, dismayed. "You drove her away." Selim's eyes blinked with bewilderment. "I'm afraid she'll never come back."

"Excellent!" trembled on the lips of the mystified servant.

"Ah, me!" sighed the master resignedly. "She smiled so divinely. Kenner girls never smile, do they, Selim? Have you noticed that they are always pensive? Perhaps you haven't. It doesn't matter. But this one smiled. I say, coming back to earth, have they begun to distill the water? I've got a frightful thirst."

"Yes, excellency. The Sahib Browne is at work. One of the servants became sick today. Now as one is drinking the water, Ballo is bringing in ice from the storehouse and melting it, but the supply is not large. Excellency, you will take Selim to live with you in Paris?" he said after awhile wistfully. "I will be your slave."

"Paris? Who the dickens said anything about Paris?" demanded Chase, startled.

"Neneah says you will go there to live, Sahib. Does not the most glorious princess live in Paris?"

"Selim, you've been listening to gossip. It's a frightful habit to get into. Put cotton in your ears. But if I were to take you, what would become of little Neneah?"

"Oh, Neneah?" said Selim easily. "If she would be a trouble to you, excellency, I can sell her to a man I know."

Chase looked blackly at the eager Arab, who quailed.

"You miserable dog!"

Selim gasped. "Excellency?"

"Don't you love her?"

"Yes, yes, Sahib—yes! But if she would be a trouble to you—no!" protested the Arab anxiously. Chase laughed as he came to appreciate the sacrifice his servant would make for him.

"I'll take you with me, Selim, wherever I go—and if I go—but, my lad, we'll take Neneah along, too, to save trouble. She's not for sale, my good Selim. The husband of Neneah radiated joy."

"Then she may yet be the slave of the most glorious princess! Allah in great! The most glorious one has asked her if she will not come with her."

"Selim," commanded the master ominously, "don't repeat the gossip you pick up when I'm not around."

CHAPTER XXX.
TWO WOMEN.

TWO days and nights crept slowly into the past, and now the white people of the chateau had come to the eve of their last day's stay on the island of Japat. The probationary period would expire with the sun on the following day, the anniversary of the death of Taswell Skaggs. The six months set aside by the testator as sufficient for all the requirements of Cupid were to come to an inglorious end at a week's mark.

MUCH TALK IS BEING CREATED BY THE GREAT GOOD IT IS DOING.

So much talk is being created by the great good Root Juice is doing at this point that some people think it is good for every ailment. The scientist said: "Root Juice is not a cure all. There are many troubles it will not benefit. It will not cure organic heart and lung troubles, cancer and other incurable maladies, but if it is used for any trouble of the stomach, bowels, liver or kidneys that can be cured with medicine, I believe Root Juice will remove obstructions and give nature a chance to restore health. The combination of roots and other ingredients in Root Juice has a remarkable softening, healing and tonic action on the stomach, bowels, bladder, liver and kidneys." Numbers of local people have called at Graham & Company's drug store and reported rapid improvement under the Root Juice treatment. A lady who for various reasons does not wish her name published, said: "I was so bad before taking Root Juice with my kidneys and stomach, that I could not straighten up after stooping without sharp pains shooting through my back; hind dizzy spells, and was very nervous. My eyesight was badly affected. Kidney sections were very frequent at night. My hands and feet were cold, the circulation was very poor. When I got up of mornings, I was just as tired as when I went to bed. At times there was a feeling in my stomach like I had swallowed rocks. I often had severe pains in my side and had frequent headaches. I was very sorrowful with dark rings under my eyes. I tried many medicines without benefit, but Root Juice is making a new woman of me. My complexion is clearing up. I have a good appetite and digest my food, my kidneys no longer give me trouble and I am entirely free from pain, although I have only used the great remedy a short while." Such praise is now being heard every day at Graham & Company's drug store. The Juice is one dollar a bottle or three bottles two dollars and a half.

Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, July 22.—Another 3 cent break in the price of wheat for July delivery, following a slump of similar magnitude the previous day, brought the price of that option on the board of trade here today down to $1.12. Other deliveries also were weak. Part of the loss was later regained and the market closed fairly steady at net losses of ½¢ to ¾¢ to 2¼¢. Corn, oats and provisions closed firm. July options closed: Wheat, $1.13½; corn, 71½¢; oats, 45½¢.

The Cokers kept up their winning streak by defeating Grafton yesterday afternoon on the Engineers' own grounds. It was a slugging bee, Jones being sent to the stable in the sixth inning. Patterson was also bumped. For the Cokers, Johnny Yoedt was working fine and the Engineers could do little or nothing with his curves.

Manager Alex Sweeney admits being the cause of the two runs Grafton made. It happened in the eighth inning, when Alex let a ball go past him for a hit which would have been an easy out. Alex says he must have been tied down on the bag to do such a trick. It didn't hurt the Cokers any as they had the game sewed up.

In the ninth inning, with Frankenberg and Rothmel on the sacks, Dunn and two balls on Zinn, Johnny Yoedt retired Zinn, Gainer and Hinton in order, striking them out. Both teams fielded in fine style.

With the Climbers.

Were it not for the knowledge that Tom Haymond and his friends are dead game sports there might be cause for apprehension over the lamentably poor showing of the Fairmont team. But the aforesaid Thomas and his cohorts are boys with the Open Heart and will stick to the Irish.

That Fairmont team is badly off color. It does not play with the same snap that marked its race during the first season. True, a good man was lost in Dunham, and his hits are badly misused, but the Hunters are not getting the runs they should on their bingles. Yesterday the club got nine hits off Wallace, yet could only score once. The Cokers had the same trouble earlier in the season but just now they are making their bingles count, thank you.

The Cokers are very much in the game. They are going to stay there, too, which should console the fans. It is not beyond the dreams of the fans that half of the past season's gains for the title may be played in Connellsville. Uniontown isn't playing a bit better than Connellsville, while the West Virginia teams are very much out of it. The clouting of the Grafton boys will cause trouble at times, but there is too much individual playing on the Engineers to make them pennant contenders. The Cokers come nearer having teamwork down pat than any of them.

Who, oh where, are those gentle rappers who promised the team would blow up in a week. One man, who should know better, was circulating the report that Ike Francis had jumped and that the team was all shot to pieces. Happily this proved untrue. It is a fact that Ike was free and easy and played hooky a couple of days, but he is back in the game hammering the cover off the ball.

Mr. Lefty Wallace got away with a lucky game yesterday. He was touched up for nine hits, which netted the Fairmont boys only a single tally. If the Cokers ever get nine hits off the aforesaid Mr. Wallace, it is a safe bet that the score board will show more than a lonely tally. You may think you have strengthened your pitching staff, Manager McCloskey, but a sad awakening may be in store for you next week.

The Cokers are just about twice as strong as when they last met Uniontown and the fans well remember what a hard tussle it was for the Champions to win then. How about their prospects during the approaching series?

Barney Gilligan was out of the game yesterday because of a bad eye. He got a cinder in it, resulting in irritation of the optic. The injury is not serious and Barney will probably be in the game again today.

FORGOT HIS OWN LINES.

A Quotation That the Poet Campbell Failed to Recognize.

That poets, like other folk, sometimes forget their own cautions is shown by an incident related by Sir Frederick Pollock. At a dinner where Thomas Campbell and Lord Nugent were present the conversation drifted from the use of Latin words in English to monosyllabic verse. Some one expressed a doubt whether two consecutive lines composed of words of one syllable could be found in our language. Lord Nugent at once quoted "By that dread name we have the sword on high." And went for her to live—with her to die.

Campbell said he did not believe in the lines and asked where they came from. Lord Nugent said, "From your own 'Pleasures of Hope.'" "How do you know that?" asked the poet. "I know it all by heart," replied Nugent. "I'll bet you a guinea you can't repeat it," said Campbell. The bet was taken and Nugent started declaiming. The poet soon got tired and said "I see you know the poem. Don't go any further." The other insisted upon repeating the whole poem or claiming double stakes, and Campbell paid the extra guinea in order to be spared the recital of the poem which had made him famous—which he had forgotten.—New York Mail.

The Dogs of Turkey.

In the matter of kindness to animals it is said that the Turk cannot be surpassed. Thus at Stamboul the wandering dogs are treated with great gentleness, and when puppies come into the world they are lodged with their mother at the side of the street in improvised kennels made out of old boxes lined with straw and bits of carpet. And frequently when a young Turk happens to be in the street he goes to the nearest baker's shop and buys a quantity of bread, which he distributes among the dogs of the quarter, who testify their gratitude by jumping up at him with muddy paws and sniffling muzzles.

He Had a Reason.
"I notice you are very cautious in what you say about people."
"Yes."
"Why is this?"
"Well, I don't prominent enough to claim I was misquoted."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
